In harmony with nature

Home – to each of us, that means within our own four walls. But for all of us together, the environment is our home and we cannot live without it. So those who love their homes must also love the environment. For this reason, at moderna we feel obligated as both people and as a company to do everything we can to preserve our resources and protect our environment. Our moderna parquet flooring is produced with great care and responsibility towards nature. In selecting materials we make sure that they are natural, demonstrate high quality and are manufactured in an environmentally sustainable manner. Nearly all the woods we use are sourced from sustainable forestry. Our basic values are part of our system. For this reason, compliance with environmental guidelines, product quality and work safety in our facilities are audited at regular intervals.

The most beautiful gift

Real wood is one of nature's most beautiful gifts. Because we want to share this gift with you in future, we put together our moderna parquet product range for you. Each of the different looks show you how moderna parquet is made from the best wood. The different characteristics are typical and, at the same time, we have reinterpreted them in our way: natural and sustainable, solid and high quality, lively and warm, stylish and modern, sensual and elegant. moderna parquet is a sophisticated product range that demonstrates love of detail – for people who value real quality, maintain their own personal style, like to make a mark and enjoy timeless aesthetics in combination with comfortable trends. For people who love their homes.

Connection

Installation of moderna parquet is quick and easy. Two systems ensure a lasting interconnection.

The 5Gc system is based on a fold-down principle along the short side. After the boards have been correctly positioned on the long side, simply press down to lock them in – so easy, a child could do it. The short sides and the long sides are interlocked directly and no tools are required. In a nutshell: Position, rotate, click. The 5Gc system (licensed from Välinge) is very stable and guarantees high tensile strength.

With the clic2tap system, you can install your parquet flooring securely in a flash. clic2tap is among the most tried and true connection systems because it makes installation so easy and still meets all of the requirements for a durable, hard-wearing connection.

It all depends on the surface

The right treatment

LACQUERING

The flooring is sealed with several layers of a UV hardened acrylic lacquer. The lacquer forms a protective coating and prevents the wood floor from damage such as scratching or cracking.

- Semi-matt lacquer accentuates the natural character of the wood floor and the depth of the grain.
- Matt lacquer provides a soft, warm look.

PROFESSIONAL LACQUER

- Our multi-layered professional lacquer provides increased scratch protection and resistance to mechanical damage.
- Wooden floors with professional lacquer are excellently protected against daily wear, stains and discoloration.
- This is the most resistant lacquer on the market (7.000 revolutions, using the Taber method according to EN 14354)

OILS

Oiled surfaces offer a particularly natural look. The oil penetrates into the wood and provides reliable protection from moisture, dirt and scratches. At the same time, the wood surface remains breathable and the wood structure is tangible. The floor retains its high quality, natural, biologically healthy characteristics.

UV OIL

- Hardening under UV light
- Satin matt surface finish
- Formaldehyde-and-solvent free
- Can be refurbished

OXY OIL

- Oxidative hardened (air-dried) surface
- Partially easy to repair
- 99% vegetable origin
- Formaldehyde and solvent free

BEVELLED EDGES

Chamfered wooden floor boards have finely bevelled edges. This allows the boards to appear longer and makes them lighter. The bevel underlines the natural look of the floor.

BRUSHING

Brushing gives a parquet flooring a desired patina – makes them appear aged – as though it had been already used for generations. Of course, it still has all of the advantages of a real wood floor. The brushing treatment emphasizes the natural charm and structure of the wood grain. The floor has a softer, warmer, cosier look.

STEAMING

The floor is treated with hot steam. This treatment gives it more resistance to fluctuations in temperature and humidity. In addition, the steam changes the colour of the parquet, giving it a decorative touch.

COLOURING

Wooden floor boards can be coloured by coating the surfaces with lacquers, coloured oils or high quality stains sealed with lacquer. This creates a modern appearance that is no longer standard, but the natural structure of the wood grain remains.

Wood gradings

VINTAGE

Very rustic, healthy and filled knots of different sizes, cracks, sapwood, silver grains, natural colour differences possible.

DISTINCTIVE

A full spectrum of natural features in structure and wood characteristics, various colours and grains, may include healthy, filled knots of various sizes as well as natural differences in colour.

LIVELY

A wealth of wood characteristics, wooden boards of different colours, various wood patterns, may include healthy, filled, medium-sized knots.

moderna palais

CLASSIC

REFINED

INDIVIDUAL

Old fashioned? Not at all! Reflecting the spirit of the current retro trend, a classic of parquet laying is experiencing a well-deserved comeback. The traditional herringbone pattern is (once again) becoming a modern eye-catcher on floors in domestic and commercial applications. The 3-layer parquet moderna palais impresses with its herringbone design with an all-round bevel. This places additional emphasis on the striking plank character. What makes it special: Firstly, the click system ensures both simple and quick laying, and secondly it is not necessary to distinguish between right and left planks. moderna palais sets classic accents in a modern interior: In combination with white walls or concrete looks, this exclusive parquet is also a popular choice to go with modern furnishings in a minimalist style to deliver a particularly interesting and individual look.
